7 The Texas Workforce Commission (Commission) adopts amendments to the following sections
8 of Chapter 815, relating to Unemployment Insurance, without changes, as published in the 9 February 18, 2011, issue of the Texas Register (36 TexReg 909):

10
11 Subchapter F. Extended Benefits, §815.170 and §815.171

12
13 PART I. PURPOSE, BACKGROUND, AND AUTHORITY

14 PART II. EXPLANATION OF INDIVIDUAL PROVISIONS

15
16 PART I. PURPOSE, BACKGROUND, AND AUTHORITY

17 The purpose of the adopted Chapter 815 rule amendment is to adjust unemployment eligibility
18 periods, as necessary, to maximize receipt of 100 percent federally shared extended
19 unemployment benefits in accordance with the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance
20 Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-312); the American Recovery and 21 Reinvestment Act of 2009, enacted February 17, 2009 (P.L. 111-5), Division B, Title II, relating 22 to Assistance for Unemployed Workers and Struggling Families, §2005. This authority was 23 granted to the Commission under House Bill (HB) 4586, 81st Texas Legislature, Regular Session
24 (2009).

26 The Commission must take this action in order to continue paying unemployed individuals who 27 are exhausting their regular and emergency unemployment benefits. During this period of high,
28 sustained unemployment, these 100 percent federally shared extended benefits are vital to out-of-
29 work Texans who are struggling to pay their bills while seeking work. These benefits also serve
30 as a much-needed stabilizing factor in local economies.

31
32 PART II. EXPLANATION OF INDIVIDUAL PROVISIONS

33 (Note: Minor editorial changes are made that do not change the meaning of the rules and,
34 therefore, are not discussed in the Explanation of Individual Provisions.)

35
36 SUBCHAPTER F. EXTENDED BENEFITS

37 The Commission adopts the following amendments to Subchapter F:

38
39 §815.170. State "On" and "Off" Indicator Weeks: Conditional Trigger

40 Section 815.170(b)(1)–(2) adds an additional calendar year in the comparison period when
41 determining whether there is a state "on" indicator for the purposes of paying extended benefits.

42
43 To pay extended benefits, a state must reach a trigger related to statewide unemployment. Under
44 authority granted by the legislature, Texas may use a temporary trigger based upon its Total
45 Unemployment Rate (TUR).
46

1 If the TUR average equals or exceeds 6.5 percent and is at least 110 percent of the corresponding
2 three-month period in either or both of the prior two calendar years (look-back period), a state
3 must offer 13 weeks of extended benefits. If the average TUR equals or exceeds 8 percent and 4 meets the same 110 percent test, 20 weeks of extended benefits must be available.

5
6 As part of the TUR trigger methodology, the U.S. Department of Labor is instructed to compute
7 the three-month average TUR each week and compare it to the same look-back period in either
8 or both of the two preceding calendar years.

9
10 During 2011, the reference months for Texas will be in calendar years 2009 and 2010. The 11 unemployment rates—and therefore the moving three-month average for both 2009 and 2010—
12 are likely to be closer to, or even higher than, the rate for the equivalent period in 2011. Texas
13 will need to look back three years, to 2008, to meet the 110 percent criterion and remain
14 triggered on extended benefits. Congress recognized this dilemma; P.L. 111-312 allows states to 15 amend their law and temporarily add a third year to the look-back period to take advantage of 16 continued 100 percent federal funding of extended benefits.

18 §815.171. High Unemployment Period: Maximum Total Extended Benefit Amount

19 Section 815.171(a) adds a reference to §815.170(b) to indicate that a high unemployment period
20 also exists under the new three-year look-back option.

22 No comments were received.

23
24 The Agency hereby certifies that the adoption has been reviewed by legal counsel and found to 25 be within the Agency's legal authority to adopt.

26
27 The rules are adopted under Texas Labor Code §301.0015, which provide the Texas Workforce
28 Commission with the authority to adopt, amend, or repeal such rules as it deems necessary for 29 the effective administration of Agency services and activities.

30
31 The adopted rules affect Texas Labor Code, Title 4, Subtitle A, Texas Unemployment
32 Compensation Act.

4
5 §815.170. State "On" and "Off" Indicator Weeks: Conditional Trigger.

- 6
7 (a) In addition to the state "on" indicator provisions for extended benefits in the Act, and
8 with respect to weeks of unemployment beginning on or after February 17, 2009, a 9 week is a state "on" indicator week if:
- 10
11 (1) the average rate of total unemployment in Texas (seasonally adjusted), as 12 determined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor, for the period consisting of the 13 most recent three months for which data for all states are published before the 14 close of such week equals or exceeds 6.5 percent; and 15
16 (2) the average rate of total unemployment in Texas (seasonally adjusted), as
17 determined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor, for the three-month period referred
18 to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, equals or exceeds 110 percent of such 19 average for either or both of the corresponding three-month periods ending in 20 the two preceding calendar years.
- 21
22 (b) With respect to compensation for weeks of unemployment beginning after the date
23 of enactment of Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job
24 Creation Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-312) and ending on or before the date established in 25 federal law permitting this provision, a week is a state "on" indicator week if:
- 26
27 (1) the average rate of total unemployment in Texas (seasonally adjusted), as
28 determined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor, for the period consisting of the most 29 recent three months for which data for all states are published before the close of 30 such week equals or exceeds 6.5 percent; and 31
32 (2) the average rate of total unemployment in Texas (seasonally adjusted), as
33 determined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor, for the three-month period referred
34 to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, equals or exceeds 110 percent of such 35 average for any or all of the corresponding three-month periods ending in the 36 three preceding calendar years.
- 37
38 (c) In addition to the state "off" indicator provisions for extended benefits in the Act,
39 there is a state "off" indicator for only a week if, for the period consisting of such 40 week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, none of the options specified in 41 subsection (a) or (b) of this section result in an "on" indicator.
- 42
43 (d) This section continues in effect until the week ending four weeks prior to the last
44 week of unemployment for which 100 percent federal sharing is available under P.L.
45 111-5, Division B, Title II, §2005(a), without regard to the extension of federal 46 sharing for certain claims as provided under §2005(c) of such law.

2 §815.171. High Unemployment Period: Maximum Total Extended Benefit Amount.

4 (a) If the conditions under §815.170(a) or (b) of this subchapter are met except that the
5 average rate of total unemployment equals or exceeds 8 percent, a high
6 unemployment period shall exist.
7

8 (b) Effective with respect to weeks beginning in a high unemployment period, the total
9 extended benefit amount payable to an eligible individual for the individual's 10 eligibility period is 80 percent of the total amount of regular benefits that were 11 payable to the individual under the Act in the individual's benefit year.
12

13 (c) This section applies as long as §815.170 of this subchapter is in effect.
