Workforce Solutions North Texas Board provides planning and oversight for employment and training programs in the North Texas Workforce Development Area that includes the counties of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger & Young. The Board has procured a contractor, Equus, Inc. to operate the Workforce Centers and Rolling Plains Management Corporation to operate the Childcare program.

After more than a year of serving customers virtually due to the Covid-19 pandemic, our offices returned to face-to-face contacts across all 11 counties on June 1, 2021. We continue to offer virtual services to customers who choose that method of service delivery. We also started back in-person hiring events and job fairs as well.

Services and programs are accessible through the workforce centers located in Bowie, Graham, Vernon & Wichita Falls. In our rural communities where we do not have an office, we have mobile services available on a weekly or bi-weekly basis provided by our Mobile Unit that is staffed by a Case Manager. In addition, continual on-going strengthening of services provided to the rural communities of our area was accomplished by adding career stations in 17 Libraries. This provides easy access to workforce resources to job seekers and employers. Workforce programs provide access to occupational skills training, job search assistance, counseling, and career development to the region's job seekers. The centers also provide services to employers to assist them with job postings, referral of qualified applicants, interview facilities, labor law information, labor market information, and assistance with employment expansion, lay-off aversions, and layoff rapid response services. The workforce centers serve annually an average of over 12,000 job seekers and provide over 6,600 services to employers. The average number of children served annually in our childcare programs are around 1300. We provide intensive services to anyone seeking employment and these groups also include a population of TANF and SNAP recipients, individuals seeking employment training options through WIOA, and individuals applying for or receiving unemployment assistance. We offer a variety of specialized workshops that focus on job readiness skills such as resume writing, interviewing, and job networking classes. Many collaborative partnerships have been developed with local agencies to deliver intensive services in our North Texas area.

In addition, North Texas is home to Sheppard Air Force Base (SAFB), which is the area's largest employer. SAFB hosts the Euro-NATO Joint Jet Pilot Training (ENJJPT) program, which presents a unique opportunity as many pilot trainees come to Wichita Falls from throughout the world, including The Netherlands, Canada, England, Belgium, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Italy, and others, which enriches the culture of the area with a variety of spoken languages and shared customs. Many retired veterans choose to remain in the area or return to the community to retire. SAFB is one of three military installations within 100 miles along with Fort Sill Army Base in Lawton, Oklahoma and Altus Air Force Base in Altus, Oklahoma. Workforce Solutions North Texas works with active-duty military spouses to obtain employment by assisting with enhanced assessment of skills, interview and resume preparation, and job search. We have on-going access to SAFB and available office space at the Airmen and Family Readiness Center.

Our workforce center also houses staff from the Texas Veterans Commission on-site to assist Veterans with significant barriers to employment who are looking for work. We also house staff on a bi-monthly basis from Texas Veterans Leadership Program with the Texas Workforce Commission to assist veterans from the 9/11 era to current.
